Chips

The lists of pledges is out, and so far as we can see, all fraternities got their quota. Some of them, according to a cynical friend of ours, "went over the top."

The English Department of the University is growing stronger and stronger. Only last week in The Hatchet it was stated that Saturday's game would be played in Carlyle, Pa. Shades of Jim Thorpe, and Indian teams of Carlisle of several decades ago!

That game Saturday was a heart-breaker, we hear. If George Washington were one of these rah-rah colleges, much could and would be written about the line plunging of Sammie Berkowitz, who, so far as his weight is concerned, has no right to line-plunge at all. He and Hoffman, another big noise in the G. W. offensive were so battered that they were placed in a hospital to recuperate.

Much more could be written about other members of the team who simply played themselves out—never giving up, and forced out of the game only by injuries. Substitutions were few and necessary.

Many have remarked that the Colonial eleven is improving in every game, and will be by no means a set-up for Catholic U. on Thanksgiving Day. And right here and now, we want to be the first to announce that the Ironmen of other years have come back! They may not be the same individuals, and their jerseys may be of a different color, but the characteristics are the same. They're iron, with plenty of sand mixed in.

A co-ed, so they tell us, passed by a famous G. W. cheerleader in the library the other day, and playfully passed her hand over his ear. Several minutes later he put his hand to that ear, and discovered a second-hand piece of chewing gum therein.

A veritable caravan is preparing a descent on William and Mary for the night game on November 2. Most of the fraternities on the campus here have chapters at that institution, and ample sleeping accommodations are assured. Optimistic O. D. K. men say that there will be at least several hundred making the pilgrimage. Maybe we'll go if somebody will take us providing we pay our share of the gas and oil.

It was only an idle rumor, children. The Troubadours' production won't be "Gyped in Egypt." It's to be called "Oh, Honey." O. K., sez we.

The Radio Club will serve the campus with hot dope direct from New York on Saturday, when City College is met on the gridiron. Now if the C. C. N. Y. men don't get excited, and just keep their hands on the radio key, all will be well.

Delta Phi is to go national as a foreign service fraternity, and will become Delta Phi Epsilon in December. Not just another organization on the campus, we trust, but one that will make for the construction of a greater G. W.

More profs are writing books on their specialties than one can imagine. All we hope is that they finish this year, so we can have complimentary copies that the editor doesn't want, and so they won't be introduced in courses as textbooks.

The Columbian Women schedule a Treasure Hunt. Maybe Prexy will attend so he can find some endowment hidden in some cranny of Lord Baltimore's old house. Nearly as many Maryland students attend the University as those from Virginia, and since George Washington chipped in during his time, our friend Baltimore, who has all the filling stations named after him, ought to come across, too.

In writing our column this week, we are reminded of what a Hatchet editor said, to the effect that he knew a lot, but was printing very little. We'll do as he does, and say "I told you so," or "I knew it all the time."

Have you noticed the cars (q. v.) parked in back of the Gym? All from Missouri, and from their appearance, they'll have to show us if they'll run.

Mothers of freshmen women will attend class with their daughters on November 14. Professors, revise your lectures accordingly.

LOCAL DELTA PHI FOREIGN SERVICE GOES NATIONAL

Arrangements Made For Early Installation of New Chapter

NEW CHAPTER AT G. W. WILL BE KNOWN AS ETA

Active Alumni Societies Are Maintained at Washington and New York

The petition of Delta Phi, George Washington local foreign service fraternity, to Delta Phi Epsilon leading national foreign service fraternity, has been accepted, and arrangements are being made for the early installation of the new chapter. Announcement that the national board of governors of Delta Phi Epsilon had acted favorably upon the petition of Delta Phi was made at the smoker of Alpha Chapter, of Georgetown University, on Wednesday, October 16.

Delta Phi Epsilon is the oldest and largest national foreign service fraternity, and is generally conceded to be the best. It was organized at Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, January 25, 1920. Since the organization of Alpha Chapter at Georgetown, five more chapters have been added. Beta chapter is located at New York University, Gamma at Boston University, Delta at the University of Southern California, Epsilon at the University of California, and Zeta at the University of Detroit. The new chapter at George Washington will be known as Eta.

National Headquarters

Active alumni societies are maintained at Washington and New York, and one is in process of formation at Detroit. National headquarters are at present in Boston, where the President, Leo Drew O'Neill, is acting dean of the School of Business Administration at Boston University.

Throughout the period of organization of the George Washington group, the Alpha chapter at Georgetown showed great willingness to cooperate, and the efforts of its national vice president, Dr. Walter C. H. Jaeger, were instrumental in bringing the companion chapter to George Washington.

Installation December 14-15

The tentative dates for the installation ceremonies are December 14 and 15. Officers of the new chapter are: J. Harold Stehman, president; Arthur A. Kimball, vice president; Paul Gardner, secretary; Howard Payne, treasurer; Charles G. Jaquette, sergeant-at-arms, and Frank Wetzell, historian. At the recent smokers held by Delta Phi, ten men were pledged. They are: Arthur Beach, George Bradford, Harold Curran, Don Iglehart, Ernest Parker, Tremaine Rambo, R. Campbell Starr, John R. Thompson, Cecil T. White, and Frank Whitehouse. The next meeting will be a smoker on Monday evening, October 28.

W. A. A. Honors Girls Just Entering College

Turnbull, Chairman of Party, Has Arranged Entertaining Program For Freshmen

Freshmen women will be guests of honor tonight at the party given for them by the Women's Athletic Association in the H. Street Gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Jennie Turnbull, chairman of the committee in charge of the freshmen entertainment, has made plans for the party which promise to amuse the lower classmen the entire evening. Assisting the chairman of the affair are Rosalie Reed, Sarah Reed, Evelyn Folsom, Mary Sprout, Ruth Chindblom, Betsy Booth and Bertie Wright.

The social committee has requested that girls sign up in the gym for this party. Freshmen, upper class women, as well as several professors, are invited.

PROMINENT GRADUATE AIDS COL. LINDBERGH

Fitzburgh Green, author of the "Reading with a Purpose" series, "The Romance of Modern Exploration," published by the American Library Association, was a student at George Washington University, where he did graduate work in chemistry and explosives. The author also attended Annapolis where he prepared for life in the Navy. He was a physicist and engineer as well as naval officer and accompanied Donald B. MacMillan on several expeditions through northern lands, exploring new territory and unknown regions in the Polar Sea.

Fitzburgh Green assisted Colonel Lindbergh in the writing of "We" and has written two volumes of history, a biography of Admiral Peary, a book of famous naval battles, books for boys and several works of fiction.

VARSITY MIXER TO HONOR TEAMS

G. W. Faculty Dignitaries Are Invited To Attend Mixer On October 26

DANCES PROVE WORTHY

G. W. Maryland Fresh Teams Will Be Guests of Colonial Club Following Game

President Cloyd Heck Marvin, Provost William Allen Wilbur, Dean Henry Gratton Doyle, and Dean Charles E. Hill have been invited to attend the next University Mixer in Corcoran Hall on Saturday evening, October 26, which will be given in honor of the freshman football team scheduled to play the University of Maryland-freshmen that day at College Park, Maryland.

Since their inception the University Mixers held by the Colonial Club have proven unusually popular with the entire student body of George Washington University, offering an opportunity for the students in the various colleges and schools to become acquainted, and to feel the unifying spirit which prevails throughout the University.

Athletic Celebrations

As in many of the other institutions, especially in the South, these dances have been given with the idea of forming a medium for the celebration of athletic contests and a means of entertaining visiting teams. Already this idea has shown its worth with the enthusiasm displayed by members of the football squad from American University who attended the dance on October 12.

With the freshman game between G. W. and Maryland scheduled for next Saturday, the Colonial Club is sponsoring a social program which will draw the two nearby rivals together for that evening following the game at College Park. This will be in the form of a dance from nine until twelve in Corcoran Hall with special features of entertainment. School dances at both G. W. and Maryland will be played by the Lido Band engaged for the evening. Both teams will be the guests of the Colonial Club.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS FIRST MEETING OCTOBER 30

Mrs. Hull Will Address Group; Representatives Attend Conference in Baltimore

Next Wednesday, October 30, is the date set for the first meeting this year of the Y. W. C. A. in W-1 at noon. Mrs. Harry Hull, chairman of the Advisory Committee of George Washington University, will talk to the girls and present the purposes and ideals of a student Christian organization. The plans and date of the County Fair will be announced at this meeting.

The Tri-state Conference of Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. of Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia was held at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., October 18, 1929.

Yah Chuan Wang, a Chinese student at George Washington University, with Dorothy Albert, Elizabeth Buntin, Dorothy Ruth, Carolyn Seibert, and Eloise Lindsay represented Washington.

Although there were several meetings of the entire conference, the program was based primarily on the three groups: Adjustment of the Individual to Society, Jewish, Catholic, and Protestant Beliefs and Practices, and Industry and its effects on the individual, which met and visited institutions in the city.

The conference meetings were held at Levering Hall, which has just been dedicated, and at the opening services of which the George Washington representatives participated.

The membership fee of one dollar may be paid to Winnie Beall, chairman of the Membership Drive, to any member of her committee, or to Mrs. Barrows, secretary for women's activities.

Alumni Hold First Luncheon Saturday

Dr. Munroe Will Be Speaker and Guest; To Talk on His Experiences

The General Alumni Association of The George Washington University will hold the first of their Alumni Luncheons for 1929-1930, this Saturday, October 26, at the Lafayette Hotel. The speaker and guest of honor at this luncheon will be Dr. Charles Edward Munroe, Emeritus Professor of Chemistry, who will speak on "Some of My Experiences in the University."

Alumni luncheons are scheduled for the last Saturday of each month, for the remainder of the school year. All will be held at the Lafayette Hotel, and will begin at 12.30.

NEW SYSTEM OF MANAGERS WILL BE INAUGURATED

Senior Manager in Charge of Whole System of Men's Athletics

VARIOUS MANAGERS WILL FORM EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Nine Sophomore Managers Will Handle the Nine Varsity Sports For Men

Since the coming of Coach Pixlee and his staff, changing conditions have been prevalent in the University. The first change was instituted in the football staff in which five coaches instead of three were installed. The second is a more important one and of greater significance, namely, the placing of men on various jobs in that department and thus receiving an assurance that this year's freshman team will be next year's varsity squad. The third noticeable change has been in the spirit of the whole athletic department and especially in the varsity squads. With the results of the first three changes being very satisfactory the staff of the athletic department is now trying to institute a change in the managerial system.

Heretofore it has been customary to have a different manager for each sport. Because of the lack of competition in this field men have been chosen at random and even asked to take certain positions in the minds of the student body. The new system will make the positions not only desirable but very enviable. In instituting this change the University is following a set-and-try system employed at such schools as Harvard, Yale, Minnesota and Michigan where it has more than met with success.

Senior Supervisor

A senior manager will have supervision of the whole system. Three junior managers will aid him, and with him form a managerial executive council. These men will be responsible to the coaching staff. As a council they will handle the nine varsity sports, dividing them into three groups. Freshman and intramural sports will also come under their observation.

For the nine varsity sports, namely, football, basketball, baseball, tennis, boxing, swimming, track, golf and rifle, there will be nine sophomore managers, each designated a particular sport. While it is preferable that these men be sophomores, a junior or senior will not be restricted from competition for them. However, a sophomore has a much better chance of working up to a senior or junior managership and is therefore preferable for the position.

There will also be freshmen managers for football, basketball, baseball and swimming. In intramural sports each competing teams must have a manager and any man qualified as a manager may organize a team and enter it in the intramural leagues. All sophomore managers will be selected from these managers the following year. So far the only designated intramural sports are football, basketball, baseball, and swimming, golf and tennis.

Managerial Staff

This, then, lines up thirteen men to be the managerial staff of all varsity sports. At the head of this staff the senior manager holds no unenviable position. His position will be, as in other schools, equal to that of the president of the student body. If he wishes he may take any trip that any emblem or key will be awarded him at the annual athletic banquet.

The executive staff of four members are in charge of all sports. The junior managers on this staff may take any trip that any team of their respective sports may take. They will also receive some emblem or key, which while not quite as significant as the senior manager's emblem, will be more so than that of the sophomore managers.

Each manager of a varsity sport, namely, the sophomore managers, will receive the letter of that particular sport, and may also take any trip their team may take. This position is comparable to that of the old managership. Freshman and intramural managers will receive the numeral of letter of their own team. Intramural letters are to be given for the first time in the history of the school.

Any student interested in any of the above positions should fill out the application blank on page 4 and mail it to the Director of Athletics at the gymnasium.

FROSH ORATORICAL DRAWS ATTENTION

Phi-Delta-Gamma Freshman Oratorical Contest Attracts First Year Students

ATTRACTIVE PRIZES GIVEN

Orations Will Be Judged Upon Content, Delivery and Stage Presence of Contestant

The Phi Delta Gamma Freshman Oratorical Contest, which will take place during the first week of December is already attracting the attention of a great number of freshmen students who entered the University for the first time this fall.

According to the number of inquiries which have come to the members of Phi Delta Gamma from freshmen who signified their intentions of entering the competition for the beautiful silver loving cup and two gold medals given as a reward to those chosen as delivering the best orations at the time of the contest in December, this year's contest will be much greater than the successful one held for the first time last March.

It is anticipated by the Executive Committee of Phi Delta Gamma, Professional Forensic Fraternity, that one and perhaps two elimination meets will be necessary before the candidates for the final contest can be determined.

Manuscripts Required

It should be remembered by all freshmen that a typewritten copy of all orations must be submitted to the Registrar at least two weeks in advance of the contest date. These manuscripts must be written on one side of the paper only. From the number of manuscripts submitted, a number will be designated to be presented orally in the final competition.

The orations will be judged on the basis of three equal ratings, one each upon content, delivery, and stage presence of the contestant. Any freshman who has never before taken part in a Phi Delta Gamma contest may submit a manuscript.

Phi Delta Gamma has sponsored all kinds of forensic activities at The George Washington University over the period of several years. The fraternity will be remembered by many of the older students as the group which, sponsored competitive dramatics at the University, and awarded a cup to the winner during the existence of the four club system.

HONOR SOCIETIES GIVE LUNCHEON FOR FROSH

Representatives of Activities Will Talk to Freshmen Women at Luncheon

All freshmen women are to be the guests of the Sphinx and Hour Glass Honor Societies, at a luncheon, to be given on Thursday, October 24, in the Women's Building.

A program has been arranged, including talks to be given by the girls, outstanding in the various women's activities on the campus. Mrs. Marvin, Mrs. Barrows, and Miss Cooper will be invited as special guests at this luncheon.

Troubadours will be represented by Julia Denning, in charge of the dancing in the coming show; Dorothy Ruth, chairman of the Board of Editors, will speak on "The Cherry Tree"; Betsy Booth will talk about "The University Hatchet," and Elizabeth Ford and Edith Norris will speak on the "Wig" and "Ghost," respectively.

Athletic activities will be represented by the various captains and managers as follows: Tennis, Winnifred Beall; basketball, Mary Sprout; hockey, Evelyn Folsom, and rifle, by Arline Spencer.

Wingo Named Head Of Philippenesians

Club Has Ambitious Program; Committee Chairman Appointed; Martinez Elected V. P.

James G. Wingo was reelected president of the Philippenesian Club of The George Washington University last Saturday evening, October 12.

The other officers elected were Jose Martinez, vice president; P. Mamaril, secretary; M. Mamaril, treasurer, and John G. Barbers, sergeant-at-arms.

The club has an ambitious plan of activities for the year. The president appointed the chairman of the different standing committees after the election. Teodoro Saribay is the new chairman of the entertainment committee.

Other committee heads appointed were Antonio Somera, John G. Barbers, Felix Pinera, and P. Diaz.

O. D. K. SPONSORS STUDENT SUPPORT AT W. AND M. GAME

National Honorary Fraternity To Carry Out Constructive Program For G. W.

AID TO BE GIVEN THOSE WISHING TO MAKE TRIP

Registration Office Will List All Who Would Support Varsity Team on November 2

"On to Williamsburg" is the latest slogan to be adopted by the local circle of Omicron Delta Kappa at its meeting held at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon House last Thursday evening.

Carrying out the national policy of O. D. K., which is mainly that of constructive work in behalf of the institutions in which the circles are located, the Alpha Epsilon Circle recently installed in this University has undertaken to further the athletic interests here, starting with the present football situation. It is generally felt that too much spirit can't be displayed at the present time in view of the difficult situation which confronts the athletic department in building up a new policy in the University.

Clearing House Planned

The idea embodied in the above slogan is that of encouraging as many as possible of the student body to make the trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, when our varsity meet the strong eleven of William and Mary College under the arc lights on Saturday evening, November 2. In order to promote this scheme Omicron Delta Kappa plans to establish a clearing house for all students who desire to follow the team. It is planned to set up an office for the sole purpose of securing the names of all students who expect to make the trip by motor, and all of those who would like to make the trip, but are prevented from doing so by a lack of transportation. The seating capacity of each car will be registered, and an effort to secure places for all those without cars will be made, with the idea of making up as congenial groups as possible. It will be generally understood that all students in each car will share the expenses of the trip equally.

This is the first time that a definite and concerted effort has ever been made to arrange for the transportation of the George Washington student body to an athletic contest. Signs on the campus during the next few days will direct students to the registration office provided for this purpose. The Hatchet will also carry a story next week regarding the details of this plan.

Officers Elected

Jay Miller of Sigma Nu, and John Thacker of Phi Sigma Kappa, were elected vice president and secretary-treasurer at the last meeting of Omicron Delta Kappa, held at the S. A. E. House, Thursday evening. Don Iglehart was chosen to serve as president with the above officers pending the regular fall elections to be held some time in the near future.

Having been chartered only last June the Alpha Epsilon Circle spent the recent meeting in a discussion over the formulation of a constructive policy which would be beneficial to The George Washington University as a whole. Much consideration has been given the present athletic policy which was inaugurated this fall and every effort will be made on the part of O. D. K. to further the program already under way.

Public Initiation

Plans for a Tap Day service for the public initiation of new members are being formed, which will be announced through The Hatchet at a later date. Tap Day, a formal method of bidding new members who have been elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, has been successfully carried out in many of the institutions in which circles are located, and has met with hearty cooperation from both student body and faculty. In the event that this form of initiation is decided upon the University student body may expect to hear the meaning of O. D. K. from one of the most prominent of the alumni members of this organization, which numbers many men prominent in state, business and educational circles.

In an early issue of The Hatchet, an outline of the activities which O. D. K. recognizes in the selecting of its members will be published in order that the entire student body will become acquainted with the methods and aims of this national honorary activities fraternity.

"Y" CARD PARTY CLOSES LITTLE SISTER MOVEMENT

The Little Sister Movement ended Thursday night with a card party, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. for all freshmen women accompanied by their Big Sisters. Dorothy Albert and Margaret Monk were chairmen of the committee in charge of arranging the party.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1929

ON TO WILLIAMSBURG

"On to Williamsburg," the slogan adopted by Omicron Delta Kappa in its efforts to encourage a public-spirited exodus of the George Washington student body to the William and Mary game next week, will either be carried far by enthusiasm, or let fall from disinterest, according to the way the student body takes it up.

The attempt of this organization of leaders of school activities to establish a campus clearing house for transportation facilities to the football game at Williamsburg needs only cooperation to put it across. The idea is a fine one; it remains to be seen if the student body is fine enough to give it the full support it merits. It is the first organized effort of this sort which has been attempted on the campus, and it promises to serve as a means of sending a large aggregation to see the George Washington team play William and Mary under the art lights, who would not be so easily able to go otherwise.

Our team may look forward to few victories, but it can not be said that it is yellow. Will the student body show its true colors in standing the supreme test of this low-ebb year and back the boys to the limit regardless of their chances of coming out on the long end of the football score? To lose gracefully after a hard game takes courage, and our team has proven they do not lack courage. The student body has plenty of opportunity to prove they have the courage to be on the job to take defeat standing up and cheering.

Out-of-town games are hard enough on the boys with the stands full of rooters cheering for their opponents. The individual members of the football team are each one giving his best on the battlefield for George Washington, but moral support added to their physical courage should make it easier for them to put up the stiff fight which they know is coming at Williamsburg.

Omicron Delta Kappa is attempting to pave the way on a large scale to make it possible for the student body to accompany the team to battle at William and Mary. Petty selfishness will be forgotten in the spirit of cooperativeness to put the movement over, if automobile drivers who plan to make the trip will enter into the plan whole-heartedly and transport their quota of the student body to form a cheering section at Williamsburg.

If the student body of George Washington University will fight as hard to win the games as the eleven men on the varsity fight to carry the pigskin over the goal, it can never be said that the Buff and Blue football team lacked encouragement or was not backed to the utmost.

Will G. W. back its team at Williamsburg. That remains to be seen; but again we say, "On to Williamsburg."

WHERE TO PARK—WHERE TO PARK?

Parking problems continue to multiply as the harrassed George Washington student rushes from pillar to post in a last flurried attempt to make his 9 o'clock class. Blocks and blocks of closely-jammed automobiles greet the eye as far as one can see.

As the police authorities become more and more stringent in their limitations, and more and more generous in handing out pink tickets upon the slightest provocation, the street work on Twentieth Street seems to progress as slowly as ever. In addition to cutting off three full blocks of parking space from the use of George Washington students ever since the opening of school, attempts to facilitate through traffic have limited parking on Twenty-first Street between certain hours, and made the situation more unbearable than ever before.

As the old saying goes:

"So this is Venice—I wonder where a man can park his car?"

HERE they are! What? The neophyte list—and now the goat-ing has begun in earnest. The next time we hear from them, it will probably be their initiation announcements as the poor frosh don't get around much (Cries of "Oh, don't they?") The main duties of the goats at present, seem to be cleaning up their respective houses in preparation for the numerous Halloween dances, which we hear are to come.

Delta Tau Delta is holding a Halloween dance on Friday night at the house; Music will be furnished by Emory Dougherty's Lido Band.

The Zetas gave a miscellaneous shower last Monday night for Mrs. Mathew Ramish who, until just recently was Miss Mary Wilson, of Beta Alpha Chapter.

Leona Veirs spent the week-end at Annapolis.

Betty Lowell, Elra Mooney and Louise Monroe attended the Navy-Notre-Dame game in Baltimore last week-end.

Verna Parsons entertained a number of her friends at a bridge party at her home on Friday evening.

Julia Denning was hostess to some of her friends at a bridge party given at her home Saturday afternoon.

The Thirteen Club will meet at the K. A. House on Thursday evening at 7:30. This is an inter-fraternity organization which has just been organized. The charter members are, Joe Howard, Doc Armstrong, Howard Humphries, Don Iglehart, Jimmy Mitchell, Jerry Sickler, Duke White, Russ Coombes, Archie Burgess, Bubby Terry, Bugs Bagranoff, Bill Oeschlager and Pinkie Riggins.

Eleanor Branson, Caroline Jackson, Marion Lum, Della Little, Ruth DeVane, and Eleanor Daniels attended the Y. M. I. Virginia game the week-end of October 19.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the engagements of Edith Dresden to Mr. Lawrence Skeels, and of Anne Goldman to Mr. Louis Epstein.

Harry and "Red" Gill, T. U. O's from the University of California, visited the Eta Alpha Chapter during their trip with the California football team to play the University of Pennsylvania.

Phi Sigma Sigma held its annual Philanthropic Bridge at the Roosevelt Hotel on Thursday, October 17.

Kitty Blake and Bennie Newton attended the Duke-Navy game, October 19, as the guest of Kerfoot Smith, formerly of Washington, D. C.

Elaine Lynch from Gamma Chapter, California, of Phi Delta spent some time last week with the Zeta Chapter.

Margorie Simonds and Louise Spratt were among the crowd who attended the Navy-Notre Dame game in Baltimore.

Beta Alpha Chapter of Phi Mu announces the appointment of Mrs. Foster Hagan (nee Marian Barker, '24), as District secretary of the Eighth district of the fraternity. Mrs. Hagan succeeds Miss Clara Duncan, of Richmond, who held the office for ten years.

Katherine Bannerman spent last week-end in New York visiting her father.

Phi Mu welcomes Dolores Chavez from Xi Chapter in Albuquerque, New Mexico, who has matriculated at the University, will become a member of the chapter.

The initiation of Adele Black, Phi Mu, was held in the sorority rooms, October 17.

Alpha Delta Pi entertained at luncheon Wednesday, October 16, with Mrs. Harrows and Miss Cooper as guests of honor.

Rosella Shaw was in New York last week-end for the Moty Cross-Fordham football game.

The local chapter of Phi Delta entertained several guests Friday evening, October 11, at the theater and supper.

Marion Cox and Barbara Miller attended the Navy-Duke game at Annapolis last Saturday.

Zeta Chapter of Phi Delta gave a Chinese Bridge last Monday evening at the home of Grace Bauer.

Delta Zeta gave a tea in honor of Kappa Kappa Gamma on Sunday, October 20.

Provost Wilbur attended the installation of the new president of Brown University last week-end, October 18.

The following officers were recently installed in the Alpha Eta Chapter of Kappa Sigma: G. M. Dandridge Terrell, G. P. Malcolm McGreagor, G. M. C. Miels Brearley, G. T. John Canney,

A. G. T. Joseph Hobbs, G. S. Everett White, and Guards, Thomas Baldwin and Robert Hoffman.

Virginia Spain has returned from Richmond after a week's visit.

The Kappa Sigma Masquerade will be held at the chapter house Thursday, October 31. Dagmoir will furnish the music.

The Scarab fraternity of the Architectural School gave a smoker for the freshmen on Tuesday, October 15.

OLD GOLD TO BROADCAST WHITEMAN-FROM COAST

Broadcast to every part of the United States, one of radio's premier features, the Old Gold Hour, presenting Paul Whiteman and the famous Whiteman Orchestra, once again originates from the Pacific Coast, starting with the broadcast of Tuesday, October 29th, 9 to 10 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

With Whiteman will go also the singers who have become so closely identified with the Old Gold Hour, the trio composed of Jack Fulton, Bing Crosby and Al Rinker, the famous Whiteman Rhythm boys, and Mildred Bailey, blues singer, the latter a "find" of Whiteman while upon the Pacific Coast during the summer months, and whose singing has won a nation-wide following within the brief space of a few months.

LAST TRYOUTS ANNOUNCED FOR WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The men's and women's glee clubs of the University are both organizing for their fall programs.

According to an announcement made by Robert Harmon, director of the University Glee Club, the enrollment for the Men's Glee Club is full and no more applications will be received.

Forty-five applications have been turned in, and the enrollment will be picked from the present line-up.

Several positions are open in the Women's Glee Club for the coming year. Plans are being laid for a group of sixty, in which there are approximately twelve more openings.

Final tryouts for positions on the Women's Glee Club will be held in Corcoran Hall 1, on Saturday, October 26, at 12:10 p. m., under the direction of Robert Harmon, after which time no more applications will be accepted.

RUEDIGER LEADS CHAPEL

Dean Ruediger conducted Chapel on Friday, October 18, in the absence of Provost Wilbur who was at Brown University attending the installation of the new President there. Regular Chapel exercises will be conducted by Provost Wilbur on Friday in W. 1 at 12:08.

COLONIALS LOSE CLOSE GAME TO DICKINSON BY 7-6

Berkowitz and Hoffman Forced To Hospital After Hard-Fought Game

PLACEMENT KICK FAILS
SO HATCHETITES LOSE

Captain Angle of Pennsylvanians is Star of Game; Scores All His Team's Points

Replete with fumbles, as each team was striving for its first victory of the season, the Dickinson College football team defeated the George Washington team by the score of 7-6. The slim margin of one point was the result of the victory and it was accomplished by the adept toe of the Dickinson leader, Billy Angle, whose placement kick for the extra tally was successful.

The Hatchettes bid for victory came in the third quarter when a series of passes was followed by Blackie Hoffman plunging over the line for a touchdown. When McGrew's placement kick was short, the Colonials had to be content with only 6 points and as the final score indicates, this failure prevented a tie.

The two teams were so evenly matched that the result was in doubt from the opening whistle until the game was over, and the numerous fumbles kept the spectators on edge during the entire struggle.

Players Hurt

Sam Berkowitz and Blackie Hoffman were the Colonials' outstanding players and they did most of the ball carrying. This work was so damaging to the men that they were placed in the hospital immediately after the game where they remained over night. They were brought back to Washington Sunday morning and placed under a physician's care. It is hoped that the men will be able to play in some part of next Saturday's game, but it is unlikely as both were in bad shape Sunday morning.

The Pennsylvanians' score came in the final session, when led by their spectacular captain, they marched down the field to the visitors' 20-yard line. On the next play, a beautifully executed pass from J. Myers to Angle netted the touchdown. Captain Angle then accounted for the deciding tally with a perfect placement kick.

Fumbles Numerous

The first half of the game was spent in marching up and down the field, with neither team accomplishing much. No less than 17 fumbles occurred during this time, with little to choose as to which aggregation had the questionable honor in this respect. This loose playing slowed up the game remarkably.

Dickinson held the upper hand during the first half as twice they worked the ball to the shadow of the Hatchettes goal, only to be repulsed and lose the ball on downs. Each time that his goal line was threatened, McGrew booted the ball out of danger.

The second half of the game was more bitterly contested as all of the scoring was done in this period. Both teams resorted to the aerial attack on numerous occasions, but with indifferent success, though this form of offense was used in the drives for touchdown by both elevens.

Whistle Saves G. W.

Just before the end of the game, the Dickinson outfit started a final drive in an effort to register another score. Mixing end runs with forward passes they advanced the ball to the 2-yard line, as the final whistle sounded to end the game. This drive was featured by a short pass over the line of scrimmage, and the receiver ran to the shadow of the goal before being downed.

The improved showing of the line was one of the outstanding features of the game from the local viewpoint. They showed the result of constant drilling on the Tidal Basin field under the supervision of Coach Connaughton. In addition to Hoffman and Berkowitz, the players who stood out for the

Riflers Start Work On Fall Schedules

Practices Are Held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 11 to 3; Tuesday, Thursday, 7 to 9

The women's rifle season opened last week with a meeting and preliminary instruction given by Betty Clark, coach to the beginners.

Varsity shots will meet and practice on Saturday afternoon, October 26.

Hours for rifle practice will be as follows: Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays from 11:00 to 3:00 and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. Students wishing to shoot at night will sign up on a sheet on the outside of the range door, in the basement of Building W.

Two tentative pre-Christmas matches have been scheduled; one with the University of Vermont and the second with the University of Pennsylvania. As well, a challenge has been received from the University for March 8.

The National Rifle Association has announced that it will offer a trophy this year to the national intercollegiate champions. George Washington University has been victor in the national meet for three years.

One hour gym credit for two rifle practices will be given to sophomores during the winter season and the intramural program will include this sport.

CLASS COMPETITION IS SPORT WEEK FEATURE

Managers of Sports For Year Are Named by Ruth
Atwell

Interclass Athletic Competition Week will be featured November 18 to 22, as part of the women's fall athletic program of The George Washington University.

Contests in soccer, hockey, archery and golf have been arranged. Teams will be chosen from the large groups of co-eds who are now competing for positions. The archery teams will consist of four members and will use the Columbia Round.

The Women's Physical Education Department announces the following girls as managers of the various athletics for the coming year: Manager of hockey, Evelyn Folsom; manager of tennis, Winifred Beall; manager of swimming, Betsy Booth; manager of golf, Mary Virginia Smith; manager of soccer, Verna Parsons; manager of archery, Barbara Sinclair; manager of rifle, Arline Spencer; manager of basketball, Mary Sproul.

The complete Physical Education Department is as follows: Ruth Atwell, director; Dr. Chapman, medical advisor; Janet Jones, instructor; Helen Lawrence, part-time instructor; Julia Denning, assistant instructor in swimming; Betty Clark, rifle coach; Jenny Turnbull and Mary Sproul are student assistants and Myrtle Knott is secretary.

Hockey Team's First Game Is November 9

Varsity Has Games Listed at Harrisonburg and Swarthmore;
Wm. and Mary Here

Hockey schedules for the women's varsity and class hockey teams, as announced last week by Miss Atwell, open on November 9, with a trip by the varsity to Harrisonburg, Va.

The G. W. team will journey to Swarthmore for their second game on November 16, and their first home game will be played the following Saturday, November 23, on the Ellipse, with William and Mary as the opposition. Manager Evelyn Folsom is negotiating for an additional practice game with Hood College.

All the inter-class games are scheduled for the week from November 18 to November 22. The Senior class team is being managed by Betty Zimmerman and the Junior team by Martha Benenson. The Sophomore and Freshman managers have not yet been selected.

COLONIAL CUBS ARE NOSED OUT BY SINGLE POINT

G. W. Freshmen Outplay Opponents, But Breaks Give
Western Md. Victory

BROWN STARS IN UPSET;
RALLY FAILS IN 7-6 LOSS

Fumbles and Intercepted Passes
Disastrous to Buff and Blue
Offensive

The Colonial Cubs were nosed out by a point in their game with the Western Maryland Freshmen at the Eastern High School Stadium last Saturday. An enthusiastic crowd of 1500 saw the home team lose in its second start of the season. Having opened with a 20-0 count over Georgetown Freshmen, the Buff and Blue were expected to overcome the aggregation from Westminster, Md., but "breaks" and alertness on the part of the visitors were superior to the strength and ability of the G. W. team.

Early in the second quarter the Colonials by a direct attack took the ball to the Western Maryland seven-yard line, only to lose possession when, on a plunge through the center of the line, the ball was knocked from Wells; G. W. quarterback, and Copp of the Upstaters, recovered. G. W. held and Western Maryland kicked to Wells and another procession started, but came to an abrupt end when an intercepted pass again gave the ball to the visitors on the fifty-yard line. After being thrown for a loss, Western Maryland chose to kick and in attempting to catch the ball on the run, Wells fumbled. On the next play Copp threw a forty yard pass to Brown, who ran another twenty yards to the Colonial goal.

Brown kicked the extra point as the half ended to give the visitors their deciding margin.

Hard Offensive

The Buff and Blue yearlings came back with a hard fighting offensive in the last half and out-played their opponents in every department, but the ten minute quarters were not sufficient to overcome a seven-point lead. However, in the last four minutes of play G. W. advanced to the four yard line and White went over to a touchdown. His placed kick for a point after touchdown was low, costing the Hatchettes a tie.

G. W. received on their thirty-five yard line and opened a series of passes to advance the ball to Western Maryland's twenty-eight yard line, when the game ended.

Brown, Western Maryland back, was the highlight of their team. His sweeping end runs were a constant menace to the Colonial defense. The work of Joe Carter on the offense and of Galloway and Al Vogt on the defense were highly commendable in G. W.'s defeat.

FRATERNITY GOLF IS NOW IN FINAL ROUND

Delta Tau Delta and Theta Upsilon
Omega Will Meet Sunday Morning

The interfraternity golf series has advanced to the final round and Delta Tau Delta and Theta Upsilon Omega are to meet next Sunday to decide the championship.

The matches have been run off on schedule due to the excellent weather conditions, and if these same conditions prevail next Sunday, it is likely that a large gathering will follow the decisive contest.

Delta Tau Delta, the favorites, encountered little opposition in their path to the final round. They easily disposed of Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Nu in matches of no interest, due to the one-sided scores. The T. U. O. had no such easy road and only gained the final bracket after a very close match with Kappa Sigma. It is expected that the match Sunday will be the most spirited of the entire series.

Preliminary Training Of Boxers Completed

Night Classes Are to be Held Mondays and Thursdays at Seven

With the completion of the preliminary training, Coach Bucky Green allowed his charges to box among themselves for the first time last Thursday afternoon.

Many of the candidates have had no competitive experience, several of whom never even donned the gloves before, but all the men have showed a willingness to work and mix up and Coach Green is favorably impressed with the spirit of his proteges.

Each man was allowed to box three rounds, and a marked improvement was noted after the men became accustomed to the blows. With the candidates mixing it up quite regularly, still greater improvement is to be expected.

Classes are to be held every Monday and Thursday evening at 7:30, for those who are unable to attend the regular afternoon sessions, and a large number of candidates are expected. Coach Green believes that the only way for a man to learn boxing is to put on the gloves at every opportunity.

BOXING

Candidates for the boxing team will report to Coach "Bucky" Green immediately. Workouts are now under way every day at the Gym between 2 and 5 p. m.

CALL FOR RIFLE TO BE GIVEN NOV. 1

Five Men to Come Out From Last Year's Varsity
Squad

PARSONS SEES GOOD YEAR

New Springfield Rifles to Replace
Old Obsolete Muskets Now
In Use

The University rifle season gets under way on November 1, when the candidates are to meet with Coach Frank Parsons and other team officials. The exact time and place will be announced later.

It is expected that at this first meeting the prospective team members will receive instruction, so that practice can get under way on Monday, November 4. The times for practice will be Mondays and Fridays, 11 to 3 and 5 to 10 o'clock; Wednesdays, 5 to 10 and Saturdays, 6 to 10 o'clock.

In an interview Coach Frank Parsons sketched briefly the history of George Washington's successful rifle teams and the prospects for victory during the coming season. He called attention to the fact that in the past five years George Washington has won the national intercollegiate gallery championship three times and placed second once. In the outdoor competitions with the service rifle George Washington has won the intercollegiate championship twice, been second twice and third once in the past five years. George Washington has been the only college to defeat Army and Navy with the service rifle, both of which were defeated in 1927 upon their home ranges.

Parsons Confident

In regard to this year's prospects, Mr. Parsons stated that, with a nucleus of five men from last year, he was confident that a team could be built that would emulate the excellent work of its predecessors. These five men are Theodore Harrel, team captain, Harry Parsons, manager, Artura Tomeiden, Harold Jenkins, all last year's varsity, and Julian Brylawski, a promising man from last year's freshmen squad. Three of these, Harrel, H. Parsons, and Tomeiden, attended the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, this summer as members of the District of Columbia National Guard team and acquitted themselves admirably, winning medals and prizes.

As incentive to increased interest this year may be mentioned the acquisition of new Springfield 22 calibre rifles to replace the obsolete muskets that have all been ceded in by the War Department. Also there is to be a comprehensive schedule of out-of-town matches, including trips to West Point and Annapolis. These matches will be shot shoulder-to-shoulder with the opponents, all scores to count. Other so-called telegraphic matches will be shot by each team upon its own range, ten men firing and the five highest scores to count.

G. W. GIRLS TO RAISE HEALTH STANDARDS

Director of Physical Education For Women States Objectives of Department

Ruth Atwell, director of physical education for women, announces the following as objectives of the Department of Physical Education as recently reorganized:

1. To help every G. W. girl to raise her standard of health.
2. To teach every G. W. girl the knowledge of, and moderate skill in, at least two sports which she may continue to enjoy and profit from after college.
3. To train every G. W. girl to have good motor control, that is, to be able to use her body in the most efficient manner by carrying it in a position of good posture and by keeping it flexible and responsive.
4. To offer to a small group, professional training in the physical education field through courses standardized with the leading major departments in the country.

The means to be used to achieve these aims will be as follows:

1. Class instruction—1. Freshmen and sophomores in hockey, soccer, tennis, archery, golf, riding, swimming, track, rifle, gymnastics, basketball, clogging, natural dancing, and corrective gymnastics.
2. Inter-class competition in hockey, swimming, basketball, rifle, tennis, golf, archery, soccer.
3. Inter-collegiate competition in hockey, swimming, basketball, rifle, and tennis.
4. Examinations and medical advice, between 12 and 1 o'clock, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from Dr. Chapman.
5. Intramural athletics for all girls who do not have the time and interest to enter class and varsity athletics.

VARSITY IS TO MEET NEW YORK TEAM SATURDAY

Fast End Plays Hope To Offset Lack of Weight of Colonials

CLAPPER IS SHIFTED
FROM BACK TO TACKLE

Spirit and Playing of Squad Is Improved by General Change
in Lineup

The Hatchettes after losing to Dickinson in a hard fought game by only one point, head northward to tackle the City College of New York next Saturday to try once again to break into the winning column, and bring home a victory. While they are bucking a team rated as superior to them, they will, by the great improvement showing fundamentals and generalship in last Saturday's game, cut the odds down to at least 2 to 1.

Improvement Shown

Under Coach Pixlee's supervision, the team has shown so much progression and improvement that their lack of weight can be offset by their fast end runs and snap passes. McGrew, who so far has done all of the punting, far outclassed his opponent last Saturday and twice staved off a more certain defeat.

A great deal of improvement was noticed both in the spirit and the playing of the squad. This is entirely due to the general shakeup instituted in last week's practice. Both McGrew and Francis, ends, played their usual brilliant games. Clapper, who was shifted from the backfield to tackle, likewise shifted, played a good game at center, and Boyle, in spite of his lack of weight, made himself generally known.

Hoffman and Berkowitz were again the stars of the backfield, each consistently gaining ground and the latter repeatedly placing passes in the hands of Perry, (R. H.) for small gains.

However, C. C. N. Y., although its weight of an average of 180 pounds far outclassed its opponent in that field, lost to a much lighter but much scrappier aggregation last Saturday, when Drexel Institute forced out a victory by ten points, winning 14 to 4. With Blenstock, captain and flashy half, well matched, and with Hoffman and Berkowitz off the sick list, the Iron Men hope to break into the winning streak and bring home their first victory of the season.

OH HONEY CAST IS DETERMINED

Midge Burnham and Bert Bagranoff to Have Leading Roles

CHORUS WORKS OUT DAILY

Practices Held Daily With Final Choice Yet To Be Made

Tryouts for the coming year's production of the Troubadours, were held on last Thursday night in Corcoran Hall. A committee of judges, composed of Midge Burnham, Julia Denning, Frank Westbrook, William Jemison, Ralph Kennedy, Daniel Beattie, and Mr. Dennis Connell reported that the results were excellent. Many tried out, and several new finds were made.

The singing cast, as chosen by the committee, is composed of Mildred Burnham, Carolyn Brash, Jane Wilson, Bert Bagranoff, Henry Nestor, Frank Westbrook, Jerry Slicker. There are three speaking parts yet to be filled.

Scene in Egypt

The scene of "Oh Honey," which has been definitely decided upon for the name of the play, is laid in Egypt. Two American reporters, taken by Midge Burnham and Bert Bagranoff, are after a story concerning a new discovery by an eccentric archaeologist, Frank Westbrook. As neither of the reporters realizes that the other is also one, so many complications ensue. Carolyn Brash has the part of a beautiful, though dumb girl, and plays opposite Henry Nestor, the only straight part in the show. The part of Mohammed Ab Domes is amply filled by Jerry Slicker. Jane Wilson takes the character of an Arabian girl.

Tryouts Tonight

Speaking tryouts are to be held tonight in Corcoran Hall. At this time the parts of the desk clerk and an old maid aunt are to be filled. The desk clerk should be able to dance and to have a suave sophisticated manner to carry off a wise cracking part. Height is hoped for in the part of the old maid aunt.

Chorus rehearsals have been under way for about two weeks under the direction of Julia Denning. There are to be three choruses, tall, short, and middle size as last year. These groups are being gradually cut down until there are about twelve in each chorus. At present, there are only a few to be dropped. Despite the cutting down process, there is an unusual number of pretty faces to top the intricate dance routines which are to be used.

Opening Meeting Held By Le Cercle Gallia

Club Will Hold Year's Second Meeting Tomorrow Evening in Phi Mu Rooms

Le Cercle Gallia resumed activities Thursday, October 10, with its first meeting of the year, which was attended by several professors and a large number of students of the University.

The following officers were elected: Dean Henning, honorary president; Catherine Spengler, secretary; and Abbott Gorham, treasurer. Other officers will be chosen at the next meeting. Professor Beneteau, who has directed the club since its foundation in 1924, addressed the gathering and explained the purposes of the organization. The social program was discussed at this time and plans formulated for a dance, concert and play.

The next meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening, October 24, in the Phi Mu Rooms, 2024 G Street. All students and alumni interested in French are cordially invited.

BOXING CANDIDATES HOLD FIRST WORKOUT

Coach Green Asks That More Men Try Out For University Boxing

"Shades of Wolgast, Fitzsimmons, Dempsey, and others, did you see that wallop? Too bad it was wasted on this air." Such was the comment of one who had happened to drop into the gym where candidates for the boxing team were holding a workout.

Two years ago, the main feature of every rally was a series of matches, presumably boxing. Two men would get into the ring, scared to death, and stage a slugging match, or a track meet, depending on the nature of the opponents. These bouts, bad as they were, drew numberless men to the rallies who attended for no other reason. Such bouts, crude as they were, appealed to the elemental blood lust in a man; that calls for the sight of well-formed bodies in action, in conflict and even the sight of blood. Man can not be blamed for such a love of conflict. It is their heritage in the fight to place civilization where it is today. It is the corner-stone of our new interest in athletics.

One man stood out in these bouts as one who had developed what boxing prowess he had. He loved boxing as an art. He decried the fact that George Washington had no boxing team, and resolved that he would do all he could to solidify what interest there was in boxing into something tangible. His first step, since there was no boxing coach, was to find someone to train him for the District lightweight championship. After months of hard training, which included trial rounds with professionals, he was ready to test his ability. He eliminated his first three opponents in three 3-round decision bouts. His last bout went three rounds without a decision. A fourth round was necessary, which he won on aggressiveness. Four bouts in one evening to win the amateur lightweight championship of the District. And his university had no boxing team.

We would like to feel that his wish for a boxing team in the university of championship calibre was not in vain. We have a coach now. A schedule has been arranged, and all we need is a boxing team. The coach is good, as anyone can see who knows his boxing and has watched Coach Green train his "white hopes." We have read many descriptions of intercollegiate boxing tournaments, with the dash and color of mixed crowds, the strained silence during the bouts, and the wild cheers when the pride of the college wins his bout. We want the "tin-tabernacle" to be the scene of such a picture. We must have men to make up the team, and it should be the duty of every able-bodied male who is not already on some team to give boxing a good try.

ARCHAEOLOGY CLASS ADDRESSED BY RIGGS

Famous American Lecturer and Editor Returned Recently From Study in Spain

In a lecture before Mrs. Mitchell Carroll's class in Archaeology last Monday afternoon, October 14, Arthur Stanley Riggs, recently returned from Spain, said, "The essence of Spanish character is contradictoriness, and this may be traced back to the intermingling of the diverse races which have peopled Spain. The Spaniard absorbed all and remained himself."

Riggs is the Director and Editor of Art and Archaeology, and the author of several books, his latest success being "The Spanish Pageant." In response to an invitation from the Royal Academy of History, presided over by the Duke of Alba, he addressed its public session on "The Status of Archaeology in the United States and Our Debt to Spain." It was during this visit that Riggs had the opportunity of discussing with King Alfonso the subject of racial origins and the possible results of archaeological research and excavations on the southern slopes of the Pyrenees. The King was particularly interested, however, in the sources of Spanish painting as a puzzle to be solved.

Discusses Famous Cavern

In connection with a brief survey of ancient sites and their remaining monuments, the lecturer referred to the improved roads and facilities for reaching the famous cavern of Altamira, and the discovery of the new cave in the same vicinity. The cavern of Altamira far-famed for the paintings of animals made on its walls by prehistoric artists some 15,000 to 20,000 years ago will soon be better known in America.

"While I was in Altamira in August, 1927," said Riggs, "I learned that a great American museum had just spent a considerable sum of money and a long time in measuring and what might be called making a topographical survey of the roof of the cave with a view to reproducing in a scaled model, the wall paintings, according to their exact color and relief. The enterprise is now, I understand, actively under way and within the next year or so, will be open to the public, so that students and others who are interested may visit the museum and without undergoing the difficulties attendant upon observation and study in the cavern itself, may be able to see in a good light these copies of remarkable paintings and drawings from the hand of prehistoric man."

Professor Oppenheim Takes S. J. D. Degree

University of Michigan Confers Degree Upon Professor in Law School

Professor S. C. Oppenheim of the George Washington University Law School was conferred the degree of Doctor of Juridical Science by the University of Michigan at its June, 1929 Commencement.

Professor Oppenheim received his B. A. degree at Columbia University in 1918, with highest honors in economics and history. After serving in the World War, he returned for his M. A. degree at Columbia University, specializing in economics. From 1921 to 1926, Professor Oppenheim taught economics at the University of Michigan, at the same time attending the Law School, from which he graduated in 1926, with the degree of Juris Doctor.

During 1927, Professor Oppenheim was Research Assistant for Dean Henry M. Bates, of the University of Michigan Law School, and it was in that capacity that he completed his Doctor's thesis on "Waiver of Jury in Criminal Cases."

Professor Oppenheim is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Order of the Coif. He is the author of several articles in legal periodicals.

SOCCER MEETING

There will be a soccer meeting in W-17 on Saturday, October 26, for juniors and seniors interested. Practice for upperclassmen is not compulsory.

Passers-by Note That Columbian Debaters Are Again in Session

It would be very embarrassing, to say the least, to mention names, because even the best of papers are often sued, but one thing is certain and that is that the Columbian Debating Society has resumed its meetings. Even the most casual of innocent passers-by, going past the door of room in Corcoran Hall, last Friday evening could not help but notice the fact.

"I make a motion," someone said without doing so.

"I object," cried an objector, "motions are born—not made."

"Point of order," shrieked a third to the frantic presiding officer. "We already have a motion before the house."

"Remove it at once," cried the first, "or I'll call the police and have you arrested for causing an obstruction to be placed in the doorway."

"What?" asked the third as he tore his hair, "what do you mean? Are you trying to mock me? I demand an apology!"

"Blah!" answered his mocker, "never shall a Missourian give an apology to an Illinoisian."

Above the din of the fracas and through the roar of hurrying furniture there came the voice of the chairman. It pleaded; but pleas are made not to be heeded. It lay down the law; but laws are made to be broken. Finally it said:

"Sirs, the point of order is sustained."

Quiet settled over the throng.

"And you, sir," he said to the wild-eyed objector, "you are out of order. Please leave the room."

In a daze, the objector, eyes blankly vacant and hands loosely hanging, slowly passed through the door. Outside the innocent bystander saw him approach the fountain, and as the unfortunate debater bent so that he might drink, our bystander heard him mumble, "Out of water... Me... Out of water..."

C. WALTER YOUNG IS AUTHOR OF NEW BOOK

International Relations of Manchuria is Subject Taken by Former G. W. Faculty Member

C. Walter Young, formerly instructor in the Department of Economics at George Washington University, is the author of a book released last Wednesday, on the subject "The International Relations of Manchuria."

This is said to be the first complete factual book on the treaty situation in Manchuria, with the agreements made from 1895, to date, between Japan, Russia, China, and the other powers. It is published by the University of Chicago Press.

Mr. Young was for three years a traveling fellow in Manchuria, and taught at Harvard and the University of Minnesota before coming to George Washington University. He is now connected with Johns Hopkins.

The book was originally prepared for the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations which meets October 28 in Kyoto, Japan, and will be the chief document on the Manchurian question to be laid by the American group before the round table, which will discuss the conflict of interests in "Three Eastern Provinces" there. This round table will include Japanese, Chinese, and Russians as well as English and Americans.

In a preface to the book, Dr. Westel W. Willoughby, of Johns Hopkins University, referring to the Kyoto meeting, says, "If the discussions are carried on in the spirit which characterized those of the two former conferences, it will be fortunate if this is the case; for it may be expected that, as a result, the entire Manchurian problem will receive a clarification which will render easier its peaceful and satisfactory settlement."

SWIMMERS REPORT

Tobacco's
at its best... in a pipe

MEN'S preference for a man's smoke—the pipe—is plenty positive. But do you know why? We'll tell you.

First, pipe tobacco's different—for instance, Edgeworth. Second, tobacco smolders as it should in a pipe. And third, these mean you get more satisfaction—greater relish of the good old savory burley, soothing fullness of rich smoke.

There's even a fourth reason: you like good company. The pipe-smoking brotherhood is that.

Tobacco's at its best in a pipe. It gets a chance to be itself there—to loosen up as it comes to life, to expand and take in air and glow. Only the choicest leaves get that chance, moreover, for pipes tell the truth about tobacco. Choice leaves, choice blends, and mighty careful handling. Edgeworth comes up through eleven distinct processes before we're willing to pass it on to you.

If you keep on missing all this, that's your fault—for we're waiting to send you your first pipefuls of Edgeworth. See the coupon? Fill it out, get a good pipe and the postman will bring you a neat little glad-to-meet-you packet of good old Edgeworth.

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—"Ready Rubbed" and "Plug Slice"—15¢ packet package to pound humidifier.

DEBATE HELD ON FOOTBALL POLICY

Columbian Society Argues on Present Athletic System in George Washington

D. C. SUFFRAGE IS DENIED

Frisbie Appoints Wingo Chairman of Publicity Committee, Shanner, Head of Program

The advisability of the new athletic program at The George Washington University was the subject of the Columbian Debating Society weekly debate on Friday evening, October 18, at 8.15 o'clock, in Corcoran Hall 15.

The society revolves itself into an open forum. All students in George Washington were extended invitations to attend the meeting and express their views.

Hot Discussion Held

Shades of Webster, Bryan and other classic harangues of history reigned again when Columbian Debating Society's oratorical demons broke the spell of a four months' silence and made Corcoran Hall reverberate with eloquent exhortations and premature "cross of gold" speeches in a stirring debate late Friday evening, October 18.

The question of "District Franchise" absorbed the attention of the debaters at their first meeting. The decision of the audience, based on the merits of the question, favored the continuance of disfranchisement for the District of Columbia.

Paul Keough opened the argument for the affirmative. He pleaded eloquently for District representation. Charles Shanner was the first speaker for the negative. He compared the harmony and smoothness of the District government with the corrupt government of other cities.

Ralph Morgall resumed the argument for the affirmative. He lamented the fact that a half million intelligent and public-spirited citizens should be denied representation in the National Government. Howard Andrew, last speaker for the negative, emphasized the fact that under the present system Washington is a prosperous and beautiful city.

President Karl Frisbie appointed James G. Wingo chairman of the publicity committee. The other members are Harold F. Arps and Gilbert Rabinowitz. Charles Shanner was appointed chairman of the program committee. Marie Noid and Paul Keough complete the membership of the committee.

CITY EDITOR OF STAR TALKS TO JOURNALISTS

Describes Newspaper's Work in Connection With Crime and Murder Cases

Mrs. Herbert E. Corn, city editor of The Evening Star, told Professor Chace's Journalism class in an address delivered Friday afternoon, on "The newspaper's work in connection with crime and murder cases," that the recent McPherson murder mystery is the most prominent murder case ever recorded in the District of Columbia. He also declared that "The Department of Justice's investigation of this case is probably the most thorough investigation of this kind the United States has ever known." In spite of this, however, he said that that Department was still in complete ignorance as to who committed the crime.

McPherson Case

Mr. Corn outlined in detail the various steps of the Star in connection with this case, including the investigation of the McPherson apartment by Policeman Allen, and the members of the Star staff, including himself.

In discussing the handling of a case of this kind, he stressed the importance of taking accurate photographs by the newspapers, and the care that must be exercised by a paper in keeping itself outside of the legal laws.

Mr. Corn asserted that the indictment of McPherson by the Grand Jury came as a complete surprise to all parties concerned.

He pointed out that the McPherson case was of special newspaper interest largely because of the fact that, to date, the principal witnesses have been supplied by the newspapers, themselves.

Liberal Club Hears Flury On Blue Laws

Next Speaker is Rev. Moses Lovell Speaking on "Religion and Big Business"

The Liberal Club of George Washington University had as speaker at its first meeting of this year, Henry Flury, president of the National Association Opposed to Blue Laws. Mr. Flury particularly attacked the bodies in Washington with heavy financial backing which are trying to get Congress to pass a model Blue Law for Washington.

The meeting was held Tuesday, October 15, in Corcoran Hall 25. The attendance was rather large. Six new members were present. More are expected at the next meeting, which will probably be held during the week of October 28. Rev. Moses Lovell, of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, has been asked to address the club on the subject "Religion and Big Business."

Mr. Flury, who is the author of several books on liberal subjects, has just returned from an extensive speech-making and one lobbying campaign in New York and Pennsylvania, to fight the passage of blue laws by the legislatures there.

G. W. U. Radio Club Becomes World Head Of International Collegiate Radio Union

U. S. A. Membership Numbers Some of Greatest Universities; Seven Continents Will Be Joined in Colossal Radio Network; Dean H. G. Doyle Gives Organization Full Support

A world-wide union of college radio clubs—this is what the radio club of G. W. has just organized.

For months its members have been feverishly sending letters and radio-grams to distant universities, asking cooperation in the establishment of a "College Radio Union." The United States, Canada, and U. S. Possessions were canvassed for members in the first international collegiate radio union the world has known.

Responses have been most enthusiastic and affirmative. Now the "College Radio Union" exists. The George Washington University is its head.

National Network

The union radio network within the United States, said H. S. Cole, founder of the union, is completed. It will be opened for student traffic November 1st. This national network includes the following members: Cornell, Dartmouth, V. M. I., U. of Ky., U. of Minn., Louisiana State U., New York City U., City College of New York. To members in this network certificates are being distributed at this moment.

Union membership does not end here. Canada, next to the U. S. A., ranks highest in members. Universities in all continents are being asked to join.

Dean Henry Gratton Doyle stated "This is a fine thing the boys are doing." He has given advice to the club in its hard work of organizing, which has been greatly appreciated. His full support is behind the union.

The organization of so huge a union is no little job. Accordingly, the G. W. U. Club has especially requested the College of the City of New York to take over the eastern half of North America and the European States. The School of Engineering of Milwaukee is assisting in the west, Alaska, Hawaii, Philippines. The rest of the world is being canvassed from world headquarters here. Results of this will be announced in about two weeks, and the world-wide radiogram service for students will be completed, then this will take in all important countries.

The purpose of the College Radio Union is the "facilitation of intercollegiate communications and friendship."

The first yearbooks of the union were distributed by G. W. U. last week. Monthly bulletins will be published, telling the radio fans and students throughout the world what their neighbors are doing. It is this phase of the union that will prove most interesting, stated H. S. Cole. Technical articles, radio club news items, union orders, and general forum will comprise them. Almost nothing could cement international college friendships more than this. By the aid of the networks, it is hoped to start correspondences between the Spanish classes here and the English classes in foreign countries.

The constitution of the union, as signed by the eight original members, states that G. W. U. Radio Club shall appoint an executive committee to conduct the business of the union. This committee is comprised of Albert W. Small and Howard S. Cole.

They stated to the reporters: "Such enthusiasm as shown by those asked to join means only one thing: That the union which we have just organized will outlast us."

A recent report from the United States Western Traffic Manager, Mr. Wm. P. Garner, of the School of Engineering of Milwaukee, stated that the enthusiasm of the members knew no bounds. He has challenged the eastern half of the U. S. network to a checker-tournament by radio and is confident his section will win.

The following transmitters within the United States alone are connected with the union: W9AKL, W2HJ, W9SO, W3SR, W8UA, W1YB, W8CVQ, W1YD, W2SZ, W2CCL, W2AOF, W2BMS, W9YL, W5YW, W9XY, W9JL. Several broadcasting stations, two of which are WJEN and WCAD, are also in the union. "On an average, each of these transmitters is five times more powerful than our own transmitter," said Cole. "The broadcasting stations are from fifty to several hundred times more powerful." Such an array of powerful stations means efficient communication.

DR. BEMIS ADDRESSES HISTORIANS' MEETING

Attention of G. W. Students Called to Advantages of Library of Congress

Dr. Bemis addressed the History Club at its first meeting of the season on October 15, describing the work in which he has been engaged in Europe for two years, securing for the Library of Congress photostat copies of documents relating to American History. The material includes diplomatic records and correspondence, records of the governments which owned colonies in America, and immigration records. In comparison with European Governments, Dr. Bemis stated that the United States, until very recently, had been woefully lacking in its interest in preserving historical source material and in providing space for housing such material as has been preserved. Many of the documents which have been preserved are not catalogued and are scattered around in various buildings in damp basements, and store-rooms, with practically no means of locating them except a personal search through bundles of material. Even now it is private organizations rather than the Government that are providing the funds to pay for securing copies of documents such as Dr. Bemis secured in Europe.

Both Sides of Story

Dr. Bemis also spoke of the necessity of having both sides of the story in studying diplomatic history, stating that almost all writers on American treaties had approached their subject from the standpoint of American records only and that documents which he saw in Europe would revolutionize our ideas of some of the early American treaties.

Attention was also called to the unusual opportunity afforded to students at George Washington University to have access to the Library of Congress to the material which he has collected and the documents that will be secured later by those who will continue the work which he began in Europe.

Mrs. Burnett, formerly a student at the University and a member of the History Club, assisted Dr. Bemis in his work in London.

Dr. Yeager Speaks At "Chest" Meeting

Subject of Talk is "Effective Public Speaking For Social Agencies"

Dr. Willard H. Yeager, Depew Professor of Public Speaking in the new department, established at George Washington University as a result of a gift by Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, gave an inspiring talk on "Effective Public Speaking for Social Agencies" at the first autumn meeting of the Speaker's Bureau of the Community Chest. He was introduced by William C. Sullivan, chairman of the Speaker's Bureau.

Dr. Yeager pointed out that a speaker has a chance to present his ideas to an audience only once and that therefore the utmost care should be used in selecting a topic that will be of interest to that particular group and then preparing his talk along lines that will hold their interest. Talks he said, should consist of pointed remarks that will convey a message in a few words. He pointed out that the printed word is susceptible to re-reading where the reader does not clearly grasp the meaning of an article at first glance, but that the spoken word must convey its idea so clearly in its one presentation that it will remain fixed in the mind of the hearer.

Dr. Yeager is expected to aid materially in the speakers' program for the Community Chest drive, January 27 to February 5, inclusive.

ROBB VOTED PRESIDENT FROSH MEDICAL CLASS

Dr. William Gerry Morgan, President American Medical Association, Is Speaker of Evening

Harry J. Robb was voted president of the Freshman class of the G. W. Medical School at an election held Friday, October 18, in the Medical Building. Samuel Topperman was named as his running mate on the same ballot.

The meeting, presided over by Robert E. Boswell, president of the Sophomore medicals, was attended by seventy-nine of the ninety enrolled, including five representatives of the fairer sex, clad in gay smocks.

Of the other two presidential nominees, J. B. Reilly and R. Cosgrove, only the latter offered any competition the final count being Robb 40, Cosgrove 28, and Reilly 11. The president elect acknowledged his victory with the customary speech of gratitude.

Hotly Contested

With only two vice presidential candidates, Moe Brand being Topperman's only adversary, the race was more hotly contested; indeed the result was in doubt until the final count when Topperman forged ahead to win 42 to 36. The secretary-treasurer for the class had been chosen by popular acclaim earlier in the year, Anthony Mira being the deserving one.

The executive committee of the Sophs, Robert Boswell, president, Charles McLean, vice president, and Harry Douglas, secretary, conducted the Convention with Boswell occupying the chair. Phi Chi, the medical fraternity, seems to have a hold on this officer business as both Boswell, Soph president, and now Robb, Frosh proxy, are members.

The Senior class was well represented at a meeting of the George Washington Medical Society held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Medical School.

The usual scientific program was presented with a talk by Dr. William Gerry Morgan, president of the American Medical Association, featuring the evening. The addresses were followed by a social meeting and buffet supper.

Art Work To Be Judged By Beaux Arts Society

Professor Kline's Problem Was Awarded a Prize Last Year

Students of the University Architectural School are at work on problems to enter in the Beaux Arts Contest this fall, in which Professor Kline won an award last year.

The junior and senior group is working on the design of a horticultural hall. The sophomore problem is to design a post office building.

Radio Club Plans To Get Reports Of Game

Station W3ACY Being Reconstructed For Reception of New York Football Returns

Returns of the George Washington City College of New York football game will be brought home by radio next Saturday, according to arrangements made by the local radio club with I. J. Newman, president of the New York club.

The New York club is preparing a portable transmitter to take to the game, and expects to have six operators available during the play. Local preparations are under way, as the University station W3ACY is being reconstructed.

As the construction of a suitable "gridgraph" on such short notice is impossible, a public address system is being considered. If this can be constructed in time, the club will place a loud speaker on the campus or in W-1 for the benefit of George Washington students. According to members of the Radio Club, the chances are that results will have to be posted or announced through a megaphone instead.

DR. DONALDSON SPEAKS AT CHURCH DEDICATION

Dr. John Donaldson, Professor of Political Economy and Executive Officer of the Department of Economics in the University, represented The George Washington University at the dedication of the Samuel Harrison Greene Memorial Building of the Calvary Baptist Church on the evening of October 1.

Referring to the similarity of objectives of universities and churches, the speaker pointed out that each is an institution which exists for teaching. This, he said, is particularly applicable to the Sunday School activities of the church.

"It is worthwhile to remember," said Dr. Donaldson, "that each contributes to an important phase of human welfare, either one of which is in itself insufficient."

On the program with Dr. Donaldson there appeared Proctor L. Dougherty, President of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, who expressed the greetings of the community; Walter Hughes Newton, Secretary to President Hoover, who read a message from the Chief Executive on behalf of the Nation; and Rabbi Abram Simon, of the Washington Hebrew congregation, who spoke for the churches of the city.

Dr. Donaldson also recently delivered an address in Pennsylvania on "The Constitution of the United States."

STUDY BY ECONOMICS PROFESSOR PUBLISHED

German Publication Runs Article on Foreign Politics by Prof. Donaldson

"Fundamentals of the Foreign Economic Processes and Policies of the United States" is the title of a study by Dr. John Donaldson, Professor of Political Economy and Executive Officer of the Department of Economics in the University, which appeared recently in the Weltwirtschaftliche Archiv.

The Archiv, considered one of the leading economic publications of the world, is issued by the Institute für Weltwirtschaft und Seeverkehr, and is edited by Dr. Bernhard Harms, and contributed to by Dr. Werner Sombart and other European scholars.

Dr. Donaldson in this discussion, points out the increasing importance of the foreign economic relations of the United States, both to this country, and to the world at large. He traces "the national economy of the United States, and the trend in its evolution; then considers successively the private foreign industrial, commercial, shipping and financial operations, respectively, including their lines of development and the resultant public policies."

The full text of Dr. Donaldson's study appeared in English.

TREASURE HUNT BEING PLANNED

Columbian Women Will Stage a Treasure Hunt in Historic Setting November 9

DOWER HOUSE TO BE PLACE
Treasure Hunt Will Be Followed by Dancing in Historic Ballroom;
Fortune Telling

Dower House, the historic old Lord Baltimore estate near Rosary-ville, Maryland, will be the scene of the Treasure Hunt, which is to be given by the Columbian Women of The George Washington University
on Saturday afternoon, November 9.

According to Virginia Dieder, chairman of the committee on arrangements, the hunt through the beautiful and interesting grounds of the Baltimore estate will begin at 3 o'clock. Wives of administrative officers, deans and faculty members of the University, and presidents of the sororities will act as patronesses.
Tickets are $1.00 each, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the Columbian Women Scholarship Fund.

Pirate Guides

Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., chairman of the committee in charge of the "Fireside Chat," arranged for those who do not participate in the hunt for treasure, will be assisted by the presidents of sororities on the campus in relating the many interesting stories connected with the old house.
A group of pirate guides, composed of a representative from each sorority, headed by Betsy Booth, will conduct guests over the house, relating its history from the time of its erection by Lord Baltimore in 1642.

Irene Pistorio will act as hostess
in the dining room, where refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon. A gypsy fortune teller will be on hand to read palms as another source of entertainment.

Dancing in Ballroom

Following the Treasure Hunt, dancing to the strains of one of Washington's finest orchestras in the historic old ballroom under crystal chandeliers will be the order of the day.

Busses will leave from 22 Jackson Place from 1.45 until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Directions for people driving their own cars may be obtained from Betsy Booth.

Newman Club Plans Ball For Halloween

Dr. Cartwright, Club Chaplain, Speaks of His Recent Trip to Europe

A Halloween masquerade ball will be the first big event of the social season of the Newman Club for this year.
The affair will be given at the Congressional Country Club on Wednesday, October 30, from 9 to 1.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the members of the committee which has arranged the dance. Jose Espinosa is chairman, and the other members are Mary Connelly, Walter Delaney, Charles Perry, Mary Flaherty, and Wilma Meredith.

This Sunday, the Newman Club will be entertained at a tea to be given by the National Catholic Social Service School, at 2400 Nineteenth Street, from 4 to 6. All Catholic students are being invited.

Dr. Cartwright Speaks

The meeting of the club last Thursday evening marked the return of its chaplain, Dr. John K. Cartwright, from his European tour. In an informal talk, Dr. Cartwright gave the club a brief resume of his trip and his observations abroad. Contrary to the popular belief that there has been a decline of Catholicism in Europe since the World War, Dr. Cartwright found the opposite to be true, especially in the cities of France.

In the spring of 1930, Dr. Cartwright will conduct a pilgrimage to the Eucharistic Congress to be held at Carthage on the northern coast of Africa. The Newman Club will be represented by one of its charter members, Miss Louise McGuire.

Dr. M. Darcy McGee, guest of the evening at the last meeting, spoke to the club on the retreats for men being held over the week ends at Manresa, on the Severn. Many of the members plan to participate in these retreats.

PESTLE AND MORTAR NOMINATES OFFICERS

The first meeting of the Pestle and Mortar Society was held last Friday at noon in the new Pharmacy Building. Candidates for officers were nominated. The election will be held at the next meeting, which will be held on Friday, November 18, at 12:15 p. m., at the Pharmacy Building.

NOTABLES ADDRESS INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Holt of G. W. is Among Speakers;
"Orion" Plans Divulged; House
Also Contemplated

W. E. Holt, advisor to the foreign students in The George Washington University, spoke at the first meeting
this season of the International University Club. The meeting was held on Sunday afternoon, October 13, at the auditorium of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, Sixth and E Streets northwest.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint all foreign students and interested American students with the work of the organization and also to show the splendid advantages which can be gained by becoming a member of this group.

Notz and Hart Speak

Dean Notz of the Foreign Service
School of Georgetown and Reverend Hart of Catholic University, were among the principal speakers.

The well-edited journal of the organization, the "Orion," climaxed the successful record last year of the International University Club. Plans have been made for a still greater and more colorful journal this present year.

Club Plans House

Leaders at the last meeting expressed their desire to build an international house in Washington, D.
C. This house will be used as the center of the club's activities and a place where foreign and American students can meet for their mutual benefit. The leaders expressed hope that this proposed house will develop into one of the chief cultural centers in the city.

Episcopal Club Begins Program For 1929-30

Membership Is Entertained at Dance;
Next Meeting Will be on November 7

The George Washington Episcopal Club inaugurated its activities for this year with a most entertaining social affair when they were guests of the Young People's Society of the Epiphany Church at a dance held Friday evening the eleventh.

The party was attended by a large number of George Washington University freshmen as well as an excellent representation of the membership of the club. Among the entertaining features which marked the evening's program were a series of spot dances and a pantomime act given by the Episcopal Young People's Society.

A large number of inquiries have been received relative to the membership requirements of the Club, and it was pointed out by the president, Robert Moncre, that while the Club was primarily for Episcopals, any students in the University interested in the work of the club would be entitled to apply for membership.

Future Events Planned

A number of social features including hikes and dances have been planned for the year. Discussional groups are being arranged for the purpose of solving students' religious problems and applying functional religion to student experiences.

The next meeting of the club will be held in Corcoran Hall, November 7, at which time plans for the future activities of the club will be announced. The officers of the organization at the present time are: president, Robert Moncre; vice president, Virginia Bonifant; corresponding secretary, Louise Ward; recording secretary, Myrtle Davidson and Treasurer, Norman Conner.

History Prof's Text To Appear Next Year

History of English Constitution
Theme of Work Which Covers
20 Years' Research

The work of another George Washington professor, Dr. G. M. Churchill, of the English history department, is scheduled to appear in print next year, when the firm of Prentice, Hall, and Co., publishes his book on English Constitutional History.

According to the author, "the book is intended to serve as a text for college classes, the object being to tell how the English Constitution came to be today in treating it in the light of historical events."

In following this plan, Dr. Churchill is making a distinct departure from the methods of authors of previous texts by making the Constitution his main subject, and mentioning English historical events only in their bearing on the development of his main theme.
Although the idea of compiling a book occurred to Dr. Churchill less than two years ago, historical research of twenty years is to be incorporated in the work, which the author expects to cover 800 or 900 pages.

Cues, Curtain Calls and Clinches

COLUMBIA

"The Trespasser," an all-talking production which has as its star the glorious Gloria Swanson, is brought to this theater after its release in England, where it received unlimited praise.
This picture unfolds the thrilling romance of a young stenographer, who finds gossip and wealth the two great barriers in her adventure of love. The marvelous emotional scenes are examples of the indubitably fine acting for which Miss Swanson is noted. And, surprise of surprises, Gloria brings to us a rich and vibrant singing voice.
The supporting cast is very good, and the story is a fast moving, entertaining romance. This is truly Gloria Swanson's best.

Current news of the day, both silent and sound; and a movietone short completes a fine program.

Meeting Is Addressed By Athletic Directors

Myer, Jones and Atwell Present Constructive Talks to W. A. A.
Group

At the second meeting of the W.
A. A. held last Wednesday night, October 16, the group was addressed by three college graduates, who had been active in Physical Education at their respective schools.

Sylvia Myer, graduate of the University of Wisconsin, discussed intramural sports with the group. Besides enumerating the sports offered women at her college, she listed the benefits of physical education for women.

Janet Jones, former University of Michigan student, spoke on the subject of interclass programs for college girls' sports.

Ruth Atwell, present Physical Education Director at the University presented several suggestions helpful to the W. A. A. Among other things, she urged them to include in the organization every college woman in athletic participation. She suggested the appointment of an intra-mural section and board, in addition to the Board of the W. A. A.

She also urged the members of the association to have prominent speakers address their meetings and carry on discussions of current athletic movements regularly.

EARLE

The "Isle of Lost Ships," a First National Vitaphone talkie, features Virginia Valli, Noah Beery, and Jason Robards. This is an exotic story of the famed Sargasso Sea, the sailor's myth, but in reality a seaweed infested region of derelicts. The story concerns two shipwrecked men and a girl, who,
by law of the shipwrecked colony must choose a mate within a day. See for yourself the strange solution of a romantic story, exceedingly well done by stars and a splendid supporting cast.
Newsreels and short comedies bore us
as usual.

FOX

"The Girl From Havana," an all-talking thrill drama without much thrill seems to be rather a flop. Beautiful scenery serves as a background for a waste of money. Pretty Lola Lane does her best, however, to carry off a weak part. The support is sickly.
A Fanehon and Marco production done
in their true style serves to counteract the atrocity. John Irving Fletcher is still demonstrating for the Baldwin Piano Company, and thinking up extemperamentous wise-cracks in the alley.
Bill Fox is still trying to sell stock via Movietone.

LITTLE THEATRE

Many Washington moviegoers will be disappointed to know that the Little Theatre, on Ninth Street, operated by the Film Arts Guild, has closed its doors, darkened its projection booth and will no longer, for the present, at least, present motion pictures, silent or otherwise.

The closing of the Little Theatre is admitted by its management to be due to a number of things, chief among which are the lack of patronage on the part of the Washington public and the difficulty of getting films from the superior New York office of sufficient strength and appeal to keep the theater popular. The last shrine of the silent movie has gone from town.

METROPOLITAN

"The Four Feathers," a Paramount sensation in sound, but not a talkie, is one of the most exciting and emotional pictures on the screen. All the thrills of the great jungle picture.

"Chang," all the courage and romance of "Beau Geste" are combined to make this much talked of production. Richard Arlen is at his best as a young English officer, who through his refusal to take active duty in a colonial uprising, is presented with four white feathers of cowardice; three by his three best friends, and one by his fiancee. How he finally redeems himself; his danger amidst savages and wild animals; the stirring adventures, and his glorious heroism—all must be seen to be appreciated. Marvelous scenes, wonderful cast, thrilling picture. Vitaphone shorts and news reels round out the bill.

PALACE

"The Thirteenth Chair," starring Lela Hyams, Conrad Nagel, and Margaret Wyckoff, who played the original role. Here is a chilling mystery play for the cold-blooded ones. An Egyptian beginning culminating in a splendid murder helps to present difficulties that we all like to solve. Characteristic music plays a great part in this production. A talkie, long awaited, of one of Broadway's greatest successes.
On the stage: We still find Al Evans as master of ceremonies, introducing a colorful and tuneful revue "Painted Melodies," well worth seeing because of the unusual dancing.

RIALTO

Joseph Schildkraut comes to us in "The Mississippi Gambler," a splendid piece, supported by Joan Bennett and an exceptionally strong cast. The melodies of the old riverboat days of the Mississippi, and the scenes are pleasantly reminiscent of "The Show Boat," in which this young man starred. It is a romantic drama that will set your heart a-flutter.

Supplementary to the main picture,
is a special added attraction, "Washington's Hero," a locally produced screen comedy, and incidentally, "comedy" is the only word that will fit it.
Anyway we get our 50 cents worth from the "Mississippi Gambler."
